

About Us

This site is intended to help present documented and straight forward information on the prices, features, performance and technology of leading online backup, disaster recovery, and business continuity vendors.

CompareOnlineBackup.org understands that the technologies offered by different vendors can be very difficult to understand. It is even more difficult to conduct an apples-to-apples comparison. It almost seems vendors intentionally describe their products/solutions in ways as to not allow comparison. We encourage you to review this information and hope that you will find it useful and will recommend this site to friends, colleagues, and business associates. We welcome and encourage your comments and suggestions.

Our goal is simple... to provide the information necessary for you to make the best decision possible in the shortest amount of time. Accurate, concise, and well organized – allowing you to use the quick reference chart to quickly compare vendors side-by-side and apples-to-apples, then to select the optimum vendor for your needs.

We have over 200 hours invested in gathering, sorting, decoding, organizing and posting the information contained in this site. We hope to save you dozens of hours. We are a ‘for profit’ company and as such, humbly request that you review all relevant advertisements posted on our site. The more ads you review the more we are compensated. If you have any questions or thoughts.. send us an email.
